Controversy surrounded the tree last week, but seems to have been overcome by the holiday spirit. The tree cost $1,836. (Related story on Page 9.)

Venice Township to sue over unpaid fire calls

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Venice Township Board has instructed Nick D. Vasiloff, its attorney, to begin individual law suits against property owners of Eagle Park Acres who have not paid for fire calls.

It was estimated by Attorney Vasiloff that there would be nearly 50 residents that have collected for fire damage from their insurance companies, but have not paid the $300 fire call fee to either the city of Venice or Venice Township.

The board noted that Venice Township had assumed the obligation to furnish fire protection to Eagle Park Acres, but the board is not legally bound to do so, according to a board spokesman.

Vasiloff said that Eagle Park property owners had time to voluntarily pay for the fire calls and avoid the added cost of a law suit. Persons wishing to avoid suit may make arrangement for payment at the Venice Township office located at 1502 Fifth St. Madison.

The city of Venice that furnishes the fire protection for Eagle Park through an agreement with the township, threatened to cut off fire protection service for lack of payment of approximately $18,000 due the city for fire calls.

According to the township attorney the board has discussed the possibility of not furnishing fire protection to Eagle Park Acres, if the property owners do not pay for the service. No action has been taken so far.

Back pay checks this week

Granite City policemen and firemen who were promised that they would receive the back pay created by their recent raises before Christmas are expected to get those checks today or tomorrow, according to City Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

The firemen and policemen receive eight percent pay raises after the council adopted their new working agreements in September. Among the stipulations in the new working agreements is that the raises were retroactive to May 1, when the former union contracts expired.

They were promised the retroactive paychecks before Christmas and Petrillo says the city will honor that promise.

"It has taken a lot of time and work to figure longevity, rank differentials, overtime and other factors for each man. Also, there was some delay when the new contract and order were not sent directly to the payroll department," the treasurer said.

He also noted that after all the information had been computed, it was

High interest cutting area business

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"It takes a pretty agile dodger to exist at this stage. You have to be pretty fleet of foot," E.A. Karandjeff Sr. of the Granite City (Trust) Bank stated as he commented on Friday's record-breaking 21½ percent prime interest rate and its effects on banking and business in this area.

Local car dealerships, realtors, developers and others all expressed the same message—there is plenty of money available to borrow, but the interest rate is so high it is nearly impossible to operate a business at a profit.

Karandjeff explained the current plentiful money supply, saying, "Of course, there is a real inflow of money into the bank because of the high rates being paid on money market certificates, which are paying in excess of 15 percent.

"However, it is difficult to make real estate loans which will enable you to repay your depositors at 15 percent plus," he added.

Even money borrowed by banks from the federal reserve bank has to be borrowed today at 13 percent, he added.

The automotive financing situation is not quite as bad and local dealers stressed that the interest a buyer will pay to purchase a car is nowhere near the 21 percent prime interest rate.

Karandjeff explained that since the money market is different and the loan period shorter for automobiles, and in light of the competition from manufacturers' financing packages, car buyers can expect to pay an effective rate of 13 to 14 percent interest at a bank for automobiles at the present time.

One Ford Motor Co. plan encourages banks to write 12 percent loans on Fords, up to 48 months, and Ford will pay the banks a minimum of $300 per loan, which compensates for the low interest rates. "The incentive is coming from Ford," according to Mel Wilmeyer, president of First Granite City National Bank.

The rub comes when car dealers have to pay a point (one percent) over the prime, or a total of 22 percent interest on the cars they keep in stock, while the cars are being sold at 12 to 14 percent interest.

Mat Matson of Granite Chrysler-Plymouth commented, "Of course it's bad. The big problem is the dealers can't afford to stock inventory at the current interest rates. You can't make as much money on the automobile as it is costing to stock the cars."

"As a result, the consumer is very

Sewer tax protests are studied

Before the new Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber can try to help persons who believe they have wrongfully been included in the special taxing district for the new sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, it must be determined whether the state's attorney's office is the proper entity to provide that help, according to Tom Long, an assistant state's attorney under Weber.

Long addressed the regular meeting of the sewer and drainage committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Monday and pledged he would provide written answers to the committee's questions on the sanitary sewer district within 10 days, which would be Christmas Eve.

However, Long did not indicate too much optimism about finding a long-range solution to those who are in the sewer district, but will not receive sewer service, or those in the district already served by Granite City sewers.

He said the state's attorney's office seems to be hampered in the matter by an Illinois Supreme Court ruling which held that "people can be taxed in a district, even though they are not benefited by the tax. We have a legal problem there," he stated.

Another problem he expressed was the power of the state's attorney's office, which is empowered by law to defend the county board and county officers and to prosecute crime, to assist taxpayers in tax objection cases.

"I am worried whether the state's attorney's office is a proper office to be prosecuting this. Would it be legal if the (county) board later decided to challenge? To be an advocate on behalf of the citizens is to be acting to reduce the tax coming into the county."

"If the sewer district decided to raise the question, there would be a problem with the state's attorney's office representing the people, even through certificates of error," Long warned.

A member of the committee contended the state's attorney's office should be involved in the issue to protect the county if it is determined the county has wrongfully included persons in the sewer district and, consequently, has taxed them illegally.

Among the things to be considered by Weber's office, according to Long, is whether the county board has the authority to legislate some persons out of the district who either have sewers from Granite City or who will not receive sewers under the current project, but are being taxed for them. "This is something we have to explore," he said.

"This is a matter of some urgency to the people involved, because I am told a lot of people have not paid their (sewer) taxes for two years and their homes should go up for the annual tax sale in January, so it is a matter of some expediency," he added.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a precinct committeewoman representing many of those who already have sewers, including about 25 homes on Pine Street, but who are in the taxing district, said many residents of the district paid their sewer taxes under protest on the advice of the former sewer district attorney, the late Harry Hartman.

However, Harold Davis, superintendent of Nameoki said he believes some residents of his township have refused to pay any of their property taxes, even under protest, so any resolution is going to be difficult for them, financially.

Council to get sewer rate proposal

Tap-ons to the new sanitary sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships will begin within weeks, if the Granite City Council tomorrow night approves a tentative treatment rate package agreed-upon by city and county officials during a meeting Saturday morning in the office of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Specific figures on the package are not being released until the council meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Granite City Hall, but Louis Whitsell, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, indicated the treatment charges agreed upon at Saturday's meeting are "pretty close" to the charge the sewer committee had been seeking, although a bit higher.

Whitsell said the agreement is, "somewhat of a compromise and only tentative, so I hate to quote any figures, until it is presented to council."

"I think we can both (city and county) live with this. Neither one of us is satisfied with it, but it is better than going to court," Whitsell added.

The tentative agreement was reached during a meeting called by Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith, legal advisor to the Madison County Board, and was termed "a last-ditch effort" to get the two sides together before Smith carried out the county board's Dec. 17 order to file suit against Granite City to resolve the impasse.

Tap-ons to the new sanitary sewers had been forbidden by Granite City until an agreement could be reached on how much the county would pay to have the sewage from the new sewers treated at the Granite City sewage treatment plant.

The city was asking that county residents pay the same $13 per quarter for treatment as city residents pay, plus pay a $10 per quarter "surcharge." The surcharge, which has been charged all sewer users outside of the city since 1978, is designed to repay the city taxpayers for bond and interest charges city residents have paid in recent years for the massive treatment plant and secondary sewage treatment plant, constructed for both the city and county sewers.

The county has sought treatment at a "bulk rate," lumping all county sewer users into one group and then treating the sewage under a rate which would pertain to one large industry.

Based upon that assumption, a study done for the county by the Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. accounting firm recommended a charge of $10.50

Madison to oppose new busing bill

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education went on record Thursday evening opposing Senate Bill 1812 and calling on Governor James Thompson to veto it. Senate Bill 1812 would provide for a new mandate on local school district transportation services and require local districts to provide free transportation services to any student who attends a non-public school located more than one and one-half miles and less than five miles from the student's residence.

It was noted that the due to limited financial resources, the State of Illinois has been unable to provide appropriations to fully support the state's share of local transportation costs.

School officials feel that approval of Bill 1812 would result in an increase in local school district expenditures and state expenditures during the 1981-82 school year.

The Madison School Board was informed by Donald G. Gill, state superintendent of Education, that the Illinois State Board of Education has extended full recognition to the school district and all attendance centers for the 1980-81 school term.

The letter from Gill read in part: "This decision is based upon information developed as a consequence of an evaluation of your district's total educational program conducted by the Public School Approval Section, Department of Recognition and Supervision of this office. This evaluation included a careful study of your annual report, a review of conditions found at the time of your last

SIU faculty, staff policies are revised

Revised policies of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees concerning faculty and staff service have been approved by the board.

Approval of the revisions, contained in Chapter Two of the Policies of the Board, completes an updating process which was undertaken earlier this year. On June 12, the board approved its revised Bylaws and Statutes. On Oct. 15, the trustees approved five of the six proposed chapters of the policies. With approval of the final chapter, SIU system officers said updating of the policies will be a continuing effort.

The chapter on faculty and staff service is divided into five sections. Section A sets out definitions of 16 commonly used terms.

Section B, dealing with appointments to positions and position approval, is based in large measure on a board policy first approved in May 1978 and amended in March of this year. In this section, authority is delegated to the chancellor and the presidents for employment administration, except that the board retains final approval authority in the granting of continuing appointments to faculty and professional staff, academic tenure, and leaves with pay.

Section C sets out in general terms the conditions of employment of faculty and staff.

These conditions represent the abbreviated restatement of previously approved board policies on such matters as vacations and sick leave, tenure and retirement.

Additionally, the section provides for chancellor and presidential approval of most specific statements which implement these policies.

Section D restates previously approved board policies related to tax-deferred annuities.

And Section E sets out the board's policy, approved in October 1978, on the indemnification of trustees, officers, employees and student appointees of the university system.

Private Robert W. Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Windle of 1834 Sixth St., Madison, recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Christianity, that joyous and most holy occasion, when people all over the world pause to celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ, is observed in a number of different ways by Americans in the United States who are descendants of African people.

In Africa, the second largest continent in the world, the customs and traditions with regards to Christmas also vary from country to country and from culture to culture within countries.

Prior to the European incursions into Africa, the vast majority of the African people engaged in religious traditions and practices centered around a Supreme Being, one Creator, who resided in the sun, and governed all their events, marriages, births, deaths, etc.

Their worship of lesser "gods" was closely related to their strong kinship or family ties and was often ancestral in nature. Like the Jews, they practiced circumcision, and their children were named for some significant event.

Acts such as stealing, killing, and the committing of adultery were considered heinous crimes and were punishable by death. There were no words in their language for profanity and they were totally unacquainted with strong or spirituous liquors. Palm wine, made from a tree, was used to celebrate important events such as births, deaths, marriages or the triumphant return from battle.

Christianity, entrenched in North Africa very early, was there when Mohammedanism made its appearance in the seventh century. In West Africa, from which the great bulk of slaves were secured, Christianity was practically unknown until the Portuguese and Spaniards began to establish missions in the area in the sixteenth century. However, the slaves who were brought to America quickly embraced Christianity, the religion of the New World, because they were already a deeply religious people.

In Ethiopia, Christmas has been celebrated for many years, for Christianity was introduced into this country in 330 A.D. The observance of Christmas, celebrated on January 7, centers around the church, Lalibela, the "Jerusalem" of Ethiopia, where pilgrims from every part of the country who remain out of doors the night before Christmas—praying, chanting and waiting for the dawn of Christmas Day.

On Christmas morning after the procession from the churches to the hilltop, the liturgy is celebrated, the priests dance, the throngs of people are fed bread and meat that have been blessed by the priests; the rest of the day is spent in dancing.

sporting and continuous feasting.

Because evergreen trees are not indigenous to most of the African continent, until recently has the tree become a part of the Africans celebration of Christmas.

The customs of Black Americans with regards to Christmas vary from state to state and from family to family, and is often a blending of various African traditions with the traditions of western cultures. Traditionally in Black America, however, Christmas centered around the coming together of families — papas, mamas, grandparents, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins to share food, love, fellowship and the exchanging of gifts with each other and the neighbors.

It was not the elaborate decorations on the tree or the material value of the gifts that were important—only that families were together, continuing to care about each other, managing to keep the faith, and making it through still another year, in spite of all the difficulties.

In spite of variations with regards to languages, complexions of skins, customs, ceremonies and celebrations, there is one thing that unites all Christians throughout the world during this season, and that is the universal spirit of Christmas that is essentially all about love.

Sewer tax

Long agreed that those who have not paid any taxes must pay the current and back taxes immediately, if they wish to avoid the January tax sale, "or they might find themselves trying to buy their property back at the tax sale."

"Our advice would be to pay the tax under protest while we are trying to find relief for them," Long added.

Wilbert Engleke, chairman of the sewer and drainage committee and a landowner in the sewer district, warned that the county is now charging a $10 fee for the filing of taxes under protest, when there has been no charge the last two years. He asked whether there would be any penalty on the money held under protest by the county, if it was later found that the taxpayers rightfully owed the taxes.

Long conceded penalties are possible. However, filing the taxes under protest is only a temporary relief, he said, pledging that the state's attorney's office will work toward permanent relief, if it is determined that Weber's office has any authority to work for the taxpayers in the matter.

If it is determined that a conflict of interest exists with the state's attorney's office assisting tax protesters while it is defending the best interests of the county, persons involved in the protests will be notified that they should seek a private attorney to protect their interests, Long pledged.

Committee Member William Nichols warned that he was told when he filed a tax objection recently that it is taking more than a year to have the objections heard before a judge, she believed Long.

Council to get

per quarter for each household using the county sewers, including $2.01 for retirement of the bond debt and $8.49 for treatment.

City officials disagreed with the figure, noting that it would be lower than the $13 per quarter now paid by city residents for sewage treatment.

The "compromise" was reached in a meeting which lasted about one hour and involved all five members of the sewer committee, the committee's attorney, H. Carl Runge, Smith, Mayor Schuler, City Attorney John Papa and Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer.

Hagnauer pledged several weeks ago to enter the negotiations in an attempt to resolve the impasse which was holding up use of the new sanitary sewers, even though approximately 70 percent of the sewer has been completed and accepted by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Neither Hagnauer nor Schuler were available for comment this morning, but Whitsell termed the session, "The friendliest meeting I ever had with them."

He added, "We are getting down to what we originally expected. It is pretty close, but will be a little higher than I expected. It is nothing like we negotiated, however."

"I think we're close now. It will be up to the council what we want to do with it. If council passes it, Mr. Hagnauer will call special meeting of the county board so we can approve it and begin sewer hook-ons after the first of the year."

He said the mood of the meeting was set by Zeke Smith, who said it was the best interests of all concerned to reach an agreement on the treatment rate, rather than going to court. He noted a court battle could go on as long as five years, if the disagreement went to the appellate court and possibly to the supreme court.

Whitsell also said the "starting point" for the negotiations Saturday was a figure Schuler put on the table, suggested by the city's sewer committee.

"We discussed it and negotiated from there. The figure is not exactly what Schuler recommended, but it is close," Whitsell said this morning.

which has not received sewers might qualify for removal from the sewer district, if a permanent solution to the detachment issue is found.

The committee also recommended that Long investigate the legal methods used by some resident of Old Alton Road in a lawsuit which resulted in Associate Judge Clayton Williams removing them from the sewer taxing district several years ago due to the "government's failure to perform" the services for which it was collecting a tax.

Since that time, the bonding company which issued the bonds to pay for the local share of the cost of constructing the new sewers, has objected to any detachment, saying it is unfair to the bondholders and threatening to sue the county to stop detachments.

That and the Illinois Supreme Court ruling which forces persons in special taxing district to remain in the districts, even though they will not receive the services, will make the finding of permanent relief a difficult chore, he indicated.

Long repeated, "We do want to help you, but we do perceive a problem with the state's attorney's office participating and still representing the taxing district. If a decision is made that we cannot represent these people, they will be notified so they can get a private attorney."

A full report on Long's findings will be made at the January meeting of the sewer and drainage committee, Engleke said.

News notes

Two longtime deans at Belleville Area College, Dr. Gordon Stone (Jan. 15) and Dr. Clyde Washburn (Dec. 31), have resigned and former president William K. Keel has moved up the effective date of his resignation to Jan. 15. The two deans had petitioned the board for a hearing to discuss allegations that interim president Dr. Bruce Wassmer had operated on a "wards and punishment" management style during faculty negotiations. The board last week authorized administrative salary hikes averaging 9 1/2 percent; raises just approved for teachers were 10 percent plus increment, or an average of 11 1/2 percent.

Dr. Ivan Pavlovic, 33, Glenview, was appointed last week as director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities.

Granite City High School North choral students directed by Mrs. Gail Mueller presented holiday songs at last week's Granite City Rotary and Rotary Ann Christmas luncheon at the YMCA. Guests of the club were three GCHS South students who are scheduled to spend a year studying overseas under Rotary Foundation sponsorship—Carole Busch, Bibi Christoff and Patti Flanagan. Gerry Yabut, a Manila, Philip-president student who is attending GCHS South in 1981, entertained with guitar selections. Donald Shaffner was program chairman and Mrs. Joni Karandjef was in charge of decorations.

President George Moore presided, and it was announced that Rotarians who rang Salvation Army bells raised $730 for the Tree of Lights drive.

Hit-and-run leads to arrest

Toytime is danger time for children's eyesight

Let your children enjoy the holiday season, but remember that toytime is always danger time for young eyes, says Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"Toys today," says Britton, "may be safer than they have ever been thanks to legislation, consumer groups, the federal government's safety campaigns, and the toy manufacturers themselves."

"But no toy can be made perfectly safe," he adds, "particularly in relation to the eyes."

Britton estimates that 17 percent of all eye injuries to children are caused by missile-type toys and games or toys with detachable parts or hard edges that can be poked into young eyes.

Because of the danger to eyesight, Britton, who heads a non-profit organization founded in 1916 to protect and preserve the sight of Illinois citizens of all ages, offers these words of advice during the holiday season to the parents of young children:

"Watch your children carefully while they play to see how they are using their toys. Toddlers, in particular, need close attention when they first begin playing with a new toy to see if they are doing anything of a dangerous nature.

Keep inappropriate toys away from children too young or inexperienced to use them properly. Most toys have age grading on them for safety reasons.

Check to make certain a toy can withstand rough handling and violent impacts without shattering, also to see if the toy is still usable, or broken and dangerous.

Be sure instructions from the manufacturer about a toy are carefully read and followed.

Be especially vigilant if your youngster was given a missile-type toy, or game. These cause nearly one out of every five eye accidents to children.

Toys are to be cherished and enjoyed by youngsters, Britton concludes. "Don't let them become the instruments of tragedy."

Moose sets deadline in plan to sue city

Moose Lodge 272 has given Granite City officials a deadline of Jan. 2 to either condemn the current lodge building or the Moose will pursue legal recourses against the city.

Moose officials allege the city harmed the current lodge building through construction of the 19th Street overpass, which has cut off the front entrance to the club, and has allegedly caused damage to the building.

They are demanding that the city begin eminent domain proceedings by Jan. 2 to take over possession of the building, or the lodge's attorneys will take additional legal action against the city, possibly stopping construction of the overpass.

An earlier motion by the Moose asking for a preliminary injunction to stop work on the overpass was heard in court Dec. 9 and was rejected by the court.

Most city officials, including Mayor Paul Schuler, were on hand for the hearing. At the last city council meeting, Schuler commented on the court's refusal to grant the injunction, stating, "I don't think that is going to stop the Moose. What they want is for us to take that building over." The council has taken no official action.

The Moose Lodge plans to construct a new club building on a 10-acre site on Maryville Road south of the present city limits and north of East 23rd Street. The site will have 315 feet of frontage and parking facilities, ball diamonds, a playground and the club building are planned.

The building will have meeting rooms and a banquet area, officials were told.

In September, the city council gave the Moose the zoning to construct the new building, not knowing that the Moose would later demand that the city take possession of the present building, according to city officials.

Demolition of 4 homes planned here

In its continuing program to rid Granite City of derelict houses and buildings, the city has begun condemnation proceedings against the owners of four more properties. It was related at the last city council meeting.

Demolition notices have been sent to the owners of a garage behind 1618 Spruce St., a house at 784 Twenty-ninth Place, an addition with a saggy roof at 701a Twenty-eighth Place and a burned house at 3004 E. 23rd St.

If the owners fail to begin repair or demolition of the buildings within 15 days of receiving the notices, the city will apply for court orders to authorize the city to raze the structures. If a court order is issued, the owners have an additional 30 days to begin repairs or demolitions, after which the city may legally demolish the structures.

The structures bring to eight the number of structures the city has instituted demolition proceedings against since a new system was instituted by City Engineer Monroe Brewer in August.

VAN RANSACKED

Forgery charges issued

Two felony charges of forgery have been signed against John L. Boatman Jr., 43, East St. Louis, who also uses the name of Jimmie T. Atkins, according to police.

Officers allege that Boatman first cashed a check for $265 at First Granite City National Bank Dec. 10 and received $240 in cash. The check, from Save-More Supermarket, 1508 Third St., Madison, was found to be stolen and forged.

The following day, Boatman allegedly presented a $546 check from Save-More Supermarket to a teller at the same bank and she notified authorities.

When police were searching Boatman's pockets, he allegedly broke free and ran west on Niedringhaus Avenue to Edison Avenue, where he jumped into a Cadillac across the street from the bank. Two men were waiting for him in the auto, police said.

An officer drew his service revolver, aimed it at the car and ordered the three inside to get out. They complied and were arrested.

Boatman was charged in felony informational documents issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office and the other two were released without charges being filed.

Boatman was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in lieu of $5,000 bond. There also is a federal hold ordered on him, since he allegedly was on federal parole, according to officials sources.

HELD FOR ST. LOUIS

Madison police arrested the man at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday on Collinsville Avenue in Madison. Madison police are charging the man with unlawful possession of cannabis, after allegedly finding some on him.

Veterans officer at schools

A representative from the Veterans Services office of Belleville Area College will be at Granite City South High School and at the BAC daytime center at Washington School on Jan. 5, 6, and 7. Hours at South High are from 3 to 8 p.m.; at Washington School, noon to 3 p.m.

Veterans who are interested in starting or continuing their education should bring separation papers or Form DD214.

Those who have completed one year of service and who entered the service from Illinois and returned to the state within six months of discharge are probably entitled to the Illinois Veterans Scholarship which provides full tuition.

Those who also qualify for the G.I. Bill receive those benefits over and above the IVS tuition payments.

Even though G.I. Bill benefits may have lapsed, it is possible that Illinois

Veterans Scholarship benefits may still be available.

War widows, war orphans, dependents of prisoners of war, and dependents of totally disabled veterans are generally eligible for educational benefits. Additionally, dependents of deceased veterans who served during wartime even though their deaths were not service-connected are usually eligible.

Effective Jan. 1, a 5 1/2 percent increase in veterans educational benefits goes into effect. This increase, coupled with a similar one in October, provides substantially greater income for student veterans than in the past.

Complete information concerning educational benefits for veterans or their survivors will be available at South High School and at the BAC extension at Washington School.

DEGREE TO MUELLER
Thomas E. Mueller, 212 Richmond Ave., is among approximately 500 candidates who received degrees in winter commencement exercises at the University of Missouri-Rolla Sunday. Degrees awarded included the bachelor of science, bachelor of arts, master of science, doctor of philosophy and the professional development degree. Mueller's degree was a bachelor of science in engineering management.

HOSTAGE TREE. Yellow lights and 53 yellow ribbons, one for each of the hostages; eight white ribbons for each airman that died in the rescue attempt; and six red ribbons, one for each diplomat released with the help of Canada, has been put up by AMVets Auxiliary Post 51, under the leadership of Americanism Chairman Betty Wilkins.

'Send our Americans home' theme of hostage tree

A special Christmas tree has been decorated by the members of AMVETS Auxiliary Post 51. The tree is dedicated to the American men being held hostage in Iran.

Christmas Day 1980 will mark the 418th day of their imprisonment and the ladies are saying, "Send Our Americans Home."

The special Christmas tree is not decorated with tinsel, ornaments or beautiful lights.

It is very simply done with all yellow lights, an American flag as a tree top, followed by a row of six red ribbons (there to show appreciation to the Canadians for their rescue of six American diplomats), a row of eight white ribbons (these to remember the eight American airmen who died in the aborted rescue attempt made by the U.S.), and 53 yellow ribbons (one for each American still being held captive).

The beauty of the tree is not in how it is decorated but rather the simplicity of thought when viewing it that seems to scream out "Send Our Americans Home."

Americanism chairman of AMVETS Auxiliary Post 51, Mrs. Betty Wilkins, has worked on this idea and is very proud of the accomplishment, as are all members of the auxiliary. SOS Chairman, Mrs. Alberta Manning, also noted that a Christmas card has been sent from the auxiliary to the hostages.

PARTY HELD

The Madison County 4-H Federation meeting and Christmas party was held December 11 at the Extension office. Items discussed in the business meeting included refreshments and bills for the Leaders' Banquet. Instead of having a refreshment committee, 4-H clubs will take turns providing refreshments for meetings. After the business meeting, members of the Federation went caroling to selected families in the Edwardsville area. The next meeting will be Jan. 8 at the Extension office.

Deer picked as the state animal

Emerging as the victor out of six candidates on the ballot, the white-tailed deer has been elected state animal by the school children of Illinois.

State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill and Executive Director of the State Board of Elections Ronald D. Michaelson announced the results Tuesday.

Receiving 37.2 percent of the 604,658 ballots cast, the white-tailed deer tallied 228,709 votes, more than 70,000 ahead of its nearest competitor.

Following were the raccoon with 184,980 votes (30.4 percent); the red fox, 132,129 (19.1 percent); the fox squirrel, 60,606 (8.7 percent); thirteen-lined ground squirrel, 25,458 (3.7 percent); and the opossum, 25,088 (3.6 percent). Write-ins totaled just over 8,000.

"This election gave students an excellent opportunity to become involved in the functioning of state government by selecting our state animal," Dr. Gill said. "It also was an important educational experience, supplementing classroom instruction in the responsibilities of citizens in a democracy."

"By participating, students learned first-hand about one of our most important basic rights — the right to vote."

Michaelson said, "The Board of Elections is delighted with the enthusiastic response."

"Students waged hard-hitting, creative campaigns, complete, with speeches, artwork and other sophisticated campaign techniques. Our educational programs are designed to teach young people about the importance of the election process, and I feel this year's election in the schools was a tremendous success."

Elementary and high school students in both public and nonpublic schools were eligible to vote. Of the 5,457 schools in Illinois, 2,605 or 48 percent participated.

Almost 60 percent of eligible elementary schools conducted the state animal election, while high schools concentrated on the mock election of a president, vice-president and senator.

Animal candidates specified by state legislation were the raccoon, fox squirrel, white-tailed deer and opossum. In addition, the State Museum nominated two animals, the ground squirrel and the red fox.

Schools were urged to conduct the State Animal election near or on November 4, but schools had until November 30 to conduct the election and submit their tallies to the State Board of Education.

Rep. Clarence Darrow, sponsor, will introduce legislation in the spring to officially designate the white-tailed deer as the Illinois state animal.

Conducted at the Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center, 29 Palms, Calif., the exercise tested the combat effectiveness and readiness of participating units. War games were conducted under simulated battlefield conditions, and were evaluated on their ability to deliver accurate fire on targets, both at night and during the day. Jones joined the Marine Corps in October 1979.

Who is Santa Claus?

By Professor
F. HENRY FIRSCHING
School of Science
Technology—STUE

The story of Santa Claus has been with us for a long time, and some people still appear to be a bit unsure about the answer to the old question, "Is there really a Santa Claus?"

Actually, a second question, "Who is Santa Claus?" is a bit more meaningful. Interestingly, a rather simple mathematical approach to such a question is quite informative.

If we take the age-old idea of Santa and assume he is a jolly old man, dressed in his red suit, who visits every child on Christmas Eve, bringing toys and goodies, we can reach a most positive conclusion. All we need to examine are two sets of facts: the number of homes in the USA and the number of seconds in a year.

With a population over 220 million, and about four individuals per home on the average, we reach a figure of about 60 million homes. The number of seconds in a year is 31,536,000, or about 30 million.

This means that if we give Santa one second per home to make his deliveries, it would take this one individual about two years of continuous work to make his appointed rounds. And furthermore, we would not be allowing any time for travel from one house to another. The chance for one person to get the job done on Christmas Eve is totally impossible.

However, if we still assume one second per home, then about 1,400 persons could visit every home in the 12 hours of darkness of Christmas Eve and Christmas morning. But if we think about it, more than a second would be needed in each home. Perhaps a minute might be more realistic. This means that about 80,000 persons must play the part of Santa Claus. And once again there is no time for travel between homes.

But if we assume one hour per home the difficulties of time can be overcome. Now 5 million persons would be needed. But with 5 million persons the travel time between distant homes becomes manageable; one hour would be ample time to find the required homes and make a delivery.

So we can conclude that millions of Santas are required. Santa Claus must be a fairly high fraction of the total population. And this tells us who Santa Claus really is. He is us!

Santa Claus can observe every boy and girl, because each parent, each relative and friend has that opportunity. The myth of Santa lives on because the reality of Santa Claus lives on. When you look in the mirror, you see Santa Claus. A red suit and a white beard are not required, only a warm heart.

Celebrate first Christmas

The trees, trims, carols, and gaily wrapped packages that light up the eyes of American children had an even greater effect on 28 Indo-Chinese tots who celebrated their first Christmas Eve at Union United Methodist Church in Belleville last week.

The 28 are the children of Laotian, Vietnamese, and Cambodian refugees enrolled in a special program at Belleville Area College which is funded by a federal grant.

The program is designed to teach the Indo-Chinese refugees to speak English and to introduce them to the lifestyle of Americans. The Christmas party was not so much a religious service as it was an introduction to the dominant religion in America.

Of course, as such, it included jolly old St. Nicholas, but the American sponsors were careful to call him only "Santa Claus." Too many named for the hefty old elf could be confusing to the tykes who will probably spend many Christmases in America before they sort out the story of the Christ Child and the appearance of the red-suited gift giver!

Provisions for parties and other observances of traditional American holidays is made in the grant to the college. Gifts for the children of the four dozen or so students were provided partially by the grant, but mostly by donations from individuals.

A highlight of get-togethers such as the one last week is always a "pot-luck" dinner. The American teachers and their friends bring traditional American food, and the refugees bring dishes that reflect the way people eat in their countries.

Since teachers in the program hail from across the United States, there is a variety of American style food as well as elaborate Laotian, Vietnamese, and Cambodian cooking—a potpourri of culinary delights, one participant calls it.

While the purpose of the party is to introduce the Indo-Chinese adults and children to the American way of life, it serves a dual role. The Americans enjoy much their introduction to some of the Indo-Chinese culture.

$13,000 needed for Tree of Lights

Christmas Day is just three days away and donations to the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights campaign are far below the amount required to aid the number of needy families in the Quad-City area.

A total of $190,000 in contributions had been received Friday, with a further $13,000 still needed to reach the 1980 Tree of Lights goal, according to Salvation Army Captain Donald Salsbury.

Today and Tuesday area families, whose applications for assistance have been approved, are picking up food baskets, toys and clothing items at a designated distribution center.

Close to 700 applications for aid were submitted and 525 baskets are scheduled to be distributed, Capt. Salsbury said. An additional 50 or so families have been adopted by other area groups, he added.

Many of those applying for help this Christmastime are seeking aid for the first time, the officer said. Persons who have been laid off from work account for many families in this category, it was noted. Helping to boost this year's assistance program are cases of canned goods contributed by various organizations, including patrons at Fairmont Race Track.

It was learned today that 40 cases of canned food were received here from the track patrons, who donated 120 cases of food in four-day period last week.

The total amount was divided between Salvation Army headquarters in Belleville, St. Louis and the Quad-Cities, Capt. Salsbury noted.

Appeals for contributions sent by mail were received much later than usual, the officer said. He asked persons getting the appeal letters—"to please answer the request for help as soon as possible."

At the present time, the 1980 contributions are between $5,000 and $6,000 behind the amount of donations tallied at the same point in the 1979 campaign. Among the most recent donors to the Tree of Lights are:

limited in selection of model and color and when the selection is limited, the sales go down proportionately," Matson explained.

However, he added, the interest rate for cars is not that high, compared to the general money market. "People think the interest rate they will have to pay to finance a car is exorbitant, but that is not true. It has not risen at the same rate as the prime rate and local banks have been exceptionally good about holding the line on interest rates for consumer loans," Matson said.

John Novotny, general sales manager, for Mathews Chevrolet, agreed, saying the rising interest rate has slowed the automotive market down, "but in reality, the prime rate doesn't really affect the automobile market the way the people think it does. It is just a matter of time till people learn that."

"General motors is going to spend $2 million for a public information campaign to show people that this is not a bad time to buy a car. Right now, people are laying back more than normal on major purchases, and that is not necessary," Novotny contended.

Thus far, the prime rate has not affected the rates banks and manufacturers' credit divisions are charging for 1981 models, according to Novotny. However, he warned, the older the car, the higher the interest rate will be.

Karandjeff commended the credit programs the automobile manufacturers are offering. "I think that the programs at Chrysler and Ford, which have been instituted to entice persons into the purchase of cars, is an excellent program," he commented.

Home loans today are negotiated individually and it is impossible to say what the interest rate would be, he added. All loans at the Granite City Bank are written with a note falling due in three years, after which the interest rate would be renegotiated, he noted. "Each loan is measured by its own merits," he added.

"The sale of homes has come to a screeching halt, with these rates," Karandjeff summarized. Is there a light at the end of the tunnel? Karandjeff believes so. "I think we are at or near the peak of interest rates right now. I think we will see a rapid slide downwards in the next 60 days," he predicted.

Wilmseyer predicted, "From what you can read and the statements of the different brokerage houses, they all feel we will see 22 or 23 percent prime before it turns around and starts a slower decline."

"Last time it reached 20 percent, it dropped rather quickly to 10 1/2 percent. Most experts predict it won't be that fast or get that low this time," Wilmseyer commented.

He also agrees the drop in the interest rate will start within 60 days. "I hope so, anyway," he added.

Granite City Realtor Sam Wolf, who also is a state representative, said once the prime rate surpassed 16 percent, the housing market was dead.

High interest

"What does it matter whether the prime rate is 12 percent or 21 percent? We're dead either way. It's just a question of how dead you can be. It has had a devastating effect on the housing market," Wolf said.

While it is next to impossible for a moderate-income family to buy a home on the open market at the current interest rate, Wolf said there are other methods now being used to purchase houses.

"A lot of the transactions being made are on a contract for deed basis, direct between seller and the buyer, and the seller is holding the mortgage."

"Those sales can be made at whatever interest rate the sellers are willing to accept. Most are going for 11 or 12 percent. It's not good, but in comparison, it's not bad," Wolf commented.

A few fortunate people with large down payments have been able to take over existing loans at the interest rate under which the original buyer purchased the homes. The down payment, however, must be large enough to pay the seller for his equity in the home at that time.

According to Wolf, "There is a lot of that going on now. Banks don't like to go along with that, but unless the mortgage forbids a new buyer from assuming the loan, there's not much the seller can do about it."

He warned that such an assumption of the loan does not relieve the original maker of the note from liability.

"I don't really see light at end of tunnel, but I am encouraged by reading some articles which indicate the prime rate has peaked out. I would hope that's true."

"Considering the inflationary spiral, most people are just as well off to buy a home now, if they can get good terms, as in a year or so, when higher prices may wipe out any reduction in interest rates," he added.

Wayne Barber, executive director of the Southern Illinois Builders' Association (SIBA) says he wishes more people would buy new houses, but sees nothing but darkness at the end of the tunnel. "I'm like everybody else. I don't know what's going to happen."

"Asked about the condition of the building market, Barber answered with a question, 'What building market?' The interest rate, of course, has affected residential construction for some time now, but it is just beginning to take a toll on commercial and industrial development projects and we really see things coming to a halt at this point."

"The rate is so high that people are not going to go out and get those loans, because they are not going to pay that kind of interest rate. If you can't make a proper return on your investment, there's no sense in making the investment," Barber stated.

Some construction is underway in the federally-funded, multi-family residential building area and Barber commended it on the projection of 1981 projects, it appears there is going to be less of a turnaround in that area than in most other areas.

"The highway sector, at least in the Madison-St. Clair County area, with the new Interstate 270 bypass starting, has some work in the projection, but that type of project is unusual for this part of the state. Apart from that, there is not much highway building going on."

Barber concluded.

First National Bank in St. Louis was the first area bank to increase its interest rate Friday from .21 to .21 1/2 percent. It was announced by Clarence C. Barksdale, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of that institution.

Learning of the increase, Wilmseyer commented, "On and on we go."

Summarizing the plight of business, Wilmseyer said, "The automobile industry has felt it very severely, followed by, or ahead, is the real estate business, since home building has virtually come to a complete halt, along with apartment buildings. It is difficult to put up apartments and be competitive with rental rates, with the types of interest being charged today."

"In banking, one of the things have to do avoid doing is to borrow short and lend long. The money market certificates are for a six-month term, so we can offer a higher interest rate."

"We try not to make an overabundance of loans out there that are too long term. If rates continue to go up, they would be losers on your books."

For example, he said First Granite City National Bank still is carrying some 5 1/2 percent loans on the books for houses purchased about 20 years ago.

"That can hurt you," he noted.

"Whether or not we are affected by the borrowing, the high interest rate hurts everyone," Wilmseyer said.

Even the shopper who has cash should be noticing a lack of selection in the stores, caused by the high interest rate.

"It dampens the spirit of the businessman. The merchant is not laying in a stock of inventory, only what he needs," Wilmseyer explained.

So by consensus of the businessmen and financial leaders in the area, the Quad-Cities have not been spared from feeling the crunch caused by high interest rates. The only ones managing to stay even are those who have cash invested in high-interest certificates, whose cars are in good running order, who likes their current houses and who never have to go to the store, for anything.

And it could get worse, before it gets better.

Back pay

discovered that there were insufficient blank city checks to do all of the back paychecks, so additional checks had to be ordered and shipped from Texas.

"We would have paid the back pay Friday, if we had the checks, but I am sure now we will pay by Monday (today) or Tuesday at the latest. They will get their checks by Christmas, No problem," Petrillo said.

Resisting police alleged

Ronald J. Holdener, 21, Belleville, was charged with resisting a peace officer, assault and disorderly conduct after he allegedly caused a disturbance in Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road, at 10:05 p.m. Thursday and then resisted police attempting to arrest him.

An employee at the lounge told police the man had been warned to cease harrasing women in the establishment and when the man resumed harrasing the women customers, he was told to stop or police would be called.

The man allegedly threatened the employee's life if he called the police. When officers arrived, the man allegedly resisted arrest and force had to be used to handcuff him, get him into the squad car and later into a jail cell.

He was released on $227 cash bond at 10:15 a.m. Friday.

Spirit of Christmas prevails; county approves $1,836 for trees

By JUDY TAPLIN

Auditor Pete Fields may be Madison County's bright and shiny star, but the county board isn't going to take his advice on that state (artificial) Christmas tree that now stands in the courthouse.

Fields has recommended that $1,836 owed General Plastics Corp. for the tree not be paid.

The county board, with three dissenters, last week approved the claim.

Cotton Roberts, Alton, told the board he was distressed with all the publicity the Christmas tree has received, and the tone of that publicity.

"Taking the birth of Christ in vain" was not funny to him, he said. He called Fields "a bright, shiny star in the county's government" but said in the case his recommendation should not be taken.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagmann agreed. "I recommend we don't follow the auditor's recommendation," he told the board. The Christmas tree was the board's decision, not the auditor's, he added.

Fields, of Collinsville, said he felt the county was "honor-bound" to pay for things it had ordered, the tree included.

The great Christmas tree dispute began long before this holiday season. Early last summer Fields had refused to sign a purchase order for it. The finance committee, by a 4-0 vote, then had agreed with him.

"I must be naive, but I thought that ended the purchase of the artificial tree," Fields said in a memo to the board Dec. 16. The memo was entitled: "Auditor's position on purchase of Christmas tree."

Fields, in the memo, said the county's general fund expenses the past two years have been greater than its revenues.

Some unexpected revenue sharing funds and fund balances have kept the county general fund in the black, he said. But next year the county won't have these two sources to fall back on, "and the trend is still that our expenses are outpacing our revenues," he said.

"It is my opinion the only alternative is to look at the propriety of each expense. Does the purchase of a non-productive asset (the tree) help us do our job better and more efficiently?"

"Are purchases like this going to help us get back to the point where expenses aren't greater than revenues? I don't think so. That is why I recommended against the purchase of the tree," he said in the memo.

"At some point the board is going to have to make its decision. I contend those tough decisions have been put off too long. I feel it is my role to advise you on these matters. I have," he concluded.

The three board members voting against approval of the $1,836 claim were Alan Dunstan, Troy; Jack Frandser, Alhambra; and Don McLean, Edwardsville.

Lost child Scout hike

A simulated lost child search and hike was held during the weekend by Boy Scout Troop 96, sponsored by the Maryville School PTA.

The Boy Scouts were alerted Saturday morning that there were "two children" lost in the woods near the Hartford canal.

The troop telephone mobilization call list was used and the Scouts gathered at the home of their Scoutmaster Bud Charbonnier.

They then hiked to a wooded area adjacent to Dave Mueller's farm near the canal.

Upon arriving at the site the Flaming Arrow and Road Runner patrols began a systematic search for the "children" throughout the area.

The Scouts found bits of clothing along the way which lead them to the victims. Communications and hiking skill awards were combined with the search.

Adults in attendance were Scoutmaster Charbonnier and Assistant Scoutmaster Bob Young.

Following the search the Scouts enjoyed hot chocolate served by Charlotte Charbonnier, Jane Isenburg and Ruth Young.

Gasoline at cost as public yule present

The Spartan Oil Co. of Granite City, has announced their eighth annual Christmas Sale from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 23, at their station located at 2905 Edwardsville Road in Granite City.

The locally-owned station has made a tradition of selling gasoline at cost shortly before Christmas to give customers a Christmas present and thank them for their patronage.

The first sale in 1973 sold regular gasoline for 39.9 cents per gallon. Last year, it sold 17,800 gallons at 94.9 cents for regular and 94.9 cents for unleaded.

This year, the firm anticipates selling even more at $1.09 for regular and $1.149 for unleaded. However, since this is our cost, the firm may be forced to change the prices without notice if it receives an increase.

The station is equipped with 16 hoses and can handle the crowd, a spokesman said. The public is invited to attend the sale.

Amvet auxiliary makes donation to Hospice

The Amvets Auxiliary Post 51 held its regular meeting last week. Discussed were plans for Christmas programs under community service, child welfare, hospital, and Americanism.

On Friday a $100 donation was made to Hospice. Making the presentation were Ann Tucker, senior vice-president, Rose Marie Linder, accepted the donation, stating that the money will be put to use for terminally-ill patients needing support and help during the holiday season.

It was voted to purchase a computer game for a 12-year-old girl who is still confined to a total body cast as a result of an auto accident in August.

A needy family residing in Granite City was discussed and it was decided to purchase gifts for three children.

It was voted to give a $50 donation to supply personal items needed by a terminally-ill veteran. The man has been recently released from John Cochran Hospital and is in a nursing home.

Ann Rich art department head

Mary Ann Rich, an art teacher at Granite City High School, was appointed last week by the Board of Education as art department head for the high schools and junior high schools.

Hired as secretaries were Rose Harris, who will be South High attendance clerk, and Ruth Jones, who will work with insurance and federal programs.

Leaves of absence were approved for Leroy Metzger, a South custodian, and Norman Malench, a Parkview School custodian, due to illnesses.

Extensions of illness leaves were authorized for Nancy Rapp, a Johnson School middle intermediate teacher, Angela Buehler, a Grigsby Junior High cafeteria employee, and Virginia Owens, a matron at GCHS North.

Retiring Jan. 5 will be Allie Lorene Shedd, a Marshall School cafeteria worker, and retiring Jan. 16 will be Anna M. Szedlar, a GCHS South cafeteria employee.

The board authorized the YMCA Soccer Association to use the South auditorium for its awards night program on Jan. 27.

The YMCA will use two school gymnasiums, if they are available, for its indoor floor hockey league. The league will start Jan. 27 and continue through March 18.

Women of the Moose, Granite City Chapter 247, will utilize the South gymnasium April 5 for a state meeting.

Illinois community college state baseball tournament games will be held on the South baseball field May 5.

Aided by staff evaluations of elementary textbooks, the board adopted the McGraw-Hill spelling series and the Macmillan social studies series for the 1981-82 school year.

Full adoption of the two textbook series is planned by 1982-83. The extent of implementation next fall will depend on the budget, the depth of the Illinois textbook loan program, and the availability of federal Title IV funds.

Curriculum Coordinator Warren D. Collins said.

Quad-City area to get wash-up

The Quad-City area is due to get a thorough "wash-up" beginning on Saturday, April 25, 1981, continuing through May 1, the community pride committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce decided at the recent kickoff meeting for the annual Clean-Up Campaign.

In past years, the campaign has lasted for only one day. This year, there will be six days of trash collection and area cleaning which will cover the entire city, according to a Chamber spokesman.

At the kickoff meeting, community pride committee chairman Ray Edwards introduced guests Jim Steele and Dave Eads of McDonald's Restaurant here, who have donated the large plastic sacks for the trash pickup and will supply soft drinks and french fries to the Boy Scouts who will open the campaign with a special cleanup on Saturday, April 25.

Walter Milton, a representative of Pepsi-Cola, also was introduced and explained that Pepsi will provide soft drinks for the workers from April 27 through May 1.

Others introduced were Debbie Marshall and Myra Parrish, executives of the River Bluffs Council, Girl Scouts, and Joe Gansley of the Boy Scouts.

Jim Stogsdt of the REACT team offered the services of that group to protect the scouts during the cleanup, and Georgia Engle, who is in charge of public relations for the cleanup explained that the program has been expanded from the one day Granite City cleanup to "an over-all general clean-up time for Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell."

The slogan may be, "April 27 through May 1 is the time," she announced. Scouts participating in the Saturday cleanup will receive badges for their work.

Fornaszewski marks 4,000 performances in 25 years

New Year's Eve will mark more than the start of a new year for local drummer and music store operator John Fornaszewski, who is booked to play at Charlie's Restaurant from Tuesday, Dec. 30, through Sunday, Jan. 4.

The appearance will mark Fornaszewski's 25th consecutive New Year's Eve performance and his 4,000th musical appearance in his career.

Fornaszewski will play with his son's band, entitled, "Stan Fornaszewski and the Musical Delights Jazz Band." Stan will play other rhythm instruments while his father mans the drums.

"Music has changed a lot in the last 25 years," John Fornaszewski reflects. "When I started, you simply grabbed one instrument, took it on the stage with you and played what you brought. Now, it takes a fully-loaded van just to move the instruments and electronic equipment a band needs and it takes hours to set it up."

Looking back over the last 3,900 performances, Fornaszewski recalls his funniest experience was at a wedding reception in a country club. The groom, a chemist, and his new bride had cut the wedding cake and were preparing to eat a piece for the photographer when the groom suddenly threw his piece of cake on the floor and warned the bride not to eat it.

It turns out his trained nose had detected poison in the cake. Police were called and found the bride's former boyfriend hiding in the bushes outside the room and peeking in the window. He admitted putting poison in the cake and was arrested, as Fornaszewski recalls.

He played his first New Year's Eve at the Hub Lounge in the Collinsville Park Ballroom in 1956, when it was "the in spot." He remarks now, "I thought I had hit the big time then."

In the late 1950s, Fornaszewski made several short tours on the road, but when his big chance came, he turned it down.

"I was going to go with a very good dixieland band called Roy Liberto & his Bourbon Street Six, which remain very popular in New Orleans today. It was just about all set for me to go and I backed out."

"The drummer who did so shortly became the drummer with then the biggest act in Las Vegas, Louis Prima and Keely Smith," he recalled.

Fornaszewski is not unhappy, however, with the way fate dealt him his cards. "It turned out just as well for me by not going, since I have been very lucky getting to do a lot of playing right in this area," he says.

Now Fornaszewski is playing with his son and Norbert Schultz in the Musical Delights Jazz Band and he feels, "After 25 years, it still is a lot of fun to play music. Things are going very well for the group and this is probably the most fun I have had playing in my career."

"The music business has really been good to us and we love it," he concluded.

JOSEPH JONES TAKES TRAINING

Navy Hull Maintenance Technician Firearm Recruit Joseph M. Jones, son of Emogene Jones of 1106 Grand Ave., Madison, was graduated from Basic Hull Maintenance Technician School.

During the eight-week course at the Naval Training Center, Philadelphia, students received instruction on the basics of welding, pipefitting and metalworking. They studied the procedures used to fabricate, install and repair all types of shipboard structures, plumbing and piping systems.

He joined the Navy in May 1980.

MUSICAL DELIGHTS. Stan Fornaszewski and the Musical Delights Jazz Band will make a very special appearance New Year's Eve at Charlie's Restaurant. The event will mark the 25th year in the music business for John Fornaszewski, right, and will be his 4,000th public appearance since he started. From left are Norbert Schultz, Stan and John Fornaszewski.

ROSALIND LATHAM TO ENTER AIR FORCE

Miss Latham, a 1980 graduate of Madison High School, is scheduled for enlistment in the regular Air Force on May 20. Upon graduation from six-week basic training, she is scheduled to receive technical training in the administration specialist program.

'Y' offers new classes

Swimming, gym activities, arts and crafts, games, and special surprises are part of a new program offered by the Tri-City Area YMCA entitled "Holiday Fun Days At The YMCA."

The program, for boys and girls ages 7 to 11, will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Dec. 25, 29, 31, and Jan. 2. The cost for the program will be $1 per day. Youngsters may register for any or all of the Holiday Fun Days. However, registration must be made at least three days in advance for each session. Participants are asked to bring suitable swimming attire (no cut offs) and a sack lunch. Further information may be obtained at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave. or by phoning 876-7200.

ARREST AFTER CRASH
Michael Evans Jr., 19, of 1620 Ferguson Ave., was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way, transporting alcohol and leaving an accident scene after a 2:15 p.m. Tuesday collision on Wabash Avenue at Sherman Avenue. There was damage to the right rear of his westbound pickup truck and the front of the southbound auto of Janette Rinehart, 5204 Nameoki Road.

Olin to stress ammunition, drop U.S. sport guns

The board of directors of Olin Corporation during the weekend authorized the disposal of the company's Winchester sporting arms business in the United States, as part of a major restructuring of the Winchester Group to better focus Olin's resources on the group's successful sporting and defense ammunition business, domestically and internationally.

In the restructuring, the company's U.S. sporting arms operation will be set up as a freestanding operation which Olin intends to sell as an ongoing business.

The board's action will result in a non-recurring after-tax charge against fourth-quarter 1980 earnings of $40 million to cover costs involved in the restructuring and in the disposition of the U.S. sporting arms business.

This charge amounts to $1.68 a share. As previously reported, Olin's sales for the first nine months of this year were $1,387,000,000 and net earnings per share were $2.56, an increase of 10 percent over the previous year's nine months' figures.

"This concentration on our ammunition businesses insures that those operations will receive the necessary resources and corporate support to be more successful. This action will further enhance our position as a leading international ammunition producer, manufacturing the most reliable product at favorable costs and competitive prices," according to John M. Henke, chairman and chief executive officer.

"The decision follows an intensive study of Winchester's operations and their relationship to the corporation's growth opportunities in the 1980s," Henke said, adding that "major long-term commitment of capital and other resources would have been required for us to achieve our corporate objectives in the production and sale of U.S. sporting arms."

During the first nine months of this year, sales of the entire Winchester Group were $218,000,000. Operating profit before taxes, was $20,400,000.

Madison move, overpass may cut GC ambulances

Two major factors may allow Granite City to reduce the number of ambulances it operates by one or more in the future, the city council was told at its last meeting.

The city of Madison is planning to begin its own ambulance service soon, reducing the number of ambulance calls which are made outside of the city, Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's ambulance committee, noted.

He also said that when the 19th Street overpass is completed, it will no longer be necessary to keep an ambulance and 24-hour-a-day crew at the West Granite fire station. That ambulance is there to protect West Granite, in case trains block the crossings and ambulances cannot reach injured persons, city officials explained.

"With the overpass giving us a direct shot in the future and with Madison running its own ambulance, it is possible we could possibly cut back by one ambulance to save money," Whitmer stated. In other business, the council agreed to hire Jeff Reiter and John Langenstein as EMTs (emergency medical technicians) with the city's ambulance service, replacing Matthew Gasparovic and Courtney Renna. Their resignations were effective Thursday, Dec. 18.

Mayor Paul Schuler noted that both replacements have up-to-date EMT certificates. He noted as probationary EMTs, they will receive $50 per month less than EMTs who have been on the job one year.

Langenstein is a former city EMT who left to pursue his education and Reiter, a former manpower employee for the city, was named last month to the city's air pollution control department, but now is reassigned to the ambulance service.

VISITOR TAKES GUN

A loaded 16-gauge shotgun was stolen from the bedroom at the home of Kit Woods, 2710 Buxton Ave., about 1:30 a.m. Friday, possibly by a neighborhood youth who knocked on Woods' door and asked for a cup of coffee. Woods said that while he was in the kitchen making the coffee, the youth who was visiting left without comment. Woods then discovered the gun was missing.

Truck firm to repair street

After years of correspondence and threatened legal action, Illinois Freight Services truck line has agreed to repair a hole in Roosevelt Avenue which allegedly was caused by a truck trailer having been set down on faulty metal front wheels in the street.

The city council was told at its last meeting that the truck line has agreed out-court to pay $930 to repair the hole and City Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. recommended that the city accept the settlement.

City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell says he can fix the hole in the street for that amount, but not the curbing which is cracked.

The truck line contends the cracked curb is not the result of the trailer.

the Fifth Ward said he believes that the truck line should be responsible for fixing the curb, but after five years of fighting over the street, he recommended that the $930 settlement be accepted.

Portell said the case is not completely closed, since the city still has legal recourse against the truck driver who set the trailer down at that spot.

WINDOWS ARE BROKEN

Two stained glass art windows, valued at about $60, were broken on the north side of St. John's Lutheran Church, 2001 St. Clair Ave., it was discovered Thursday. It appears a hockey puck found nearby was used to break the windows. The pastor said he believes the damage occurred after school was dismissed Wednesday, since numerous students walk behind the church each morning and afternoon.

City to aid Gateway in crossing study

Granite City has agreed to provide approximately $750 worth of engineering services to assist the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and the Southwestern Illinois and Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission (SIMARPC) study the impact of tieups at railroad crossings in this area.

The study will focus on the Quad-City area and East St. Louis to study the present problems caused by railroad intersections and to project the effects in the future, the city council was told at its last meeting.

Traffic counts of both vehicles and trains will be taken and input from several sources will be used in predicting what failure to provide grade separations will mean in the future.

City officials are hopeful that the study, which could take several years to complete, will show a clear need for several overpasses or underpasses in this area. The councilmen voted unanimously to allow City Engineer Monroe Brewer and his staff cooperate in the study and give up to $750 worth of "in-kind engineering services" to the study team.

Educational secretaries hold Christmas party

Enjoying the mood of the holidays, the Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries held their annual Christmas party at Ravanello's last week, hosted by Arlene Haldeman, chairman, with Barb Dickerson, Catherine Wittevrangel, and Vivian Hillen assisting.

The social hour was followed by a buffet, in view of a Christmas tree and other decorations. Arlene Smith gave the prayer before dinner.

To entertain the members after dinner was the High School South "Singing Choir," under the direction of Mrs. Mary Bright. A number of favorite Christmas songs were sung, with a novel approach, along with a few songs from a Broadway show. A sing-a-long followed. "White elephants" brought by secretaries were used as prizes for game, using secretaries' names in squares.

Catherine Wittevrangel, secretary of Parkview School, and Vivian Hillen, secretary of Wilson School, are retiring and were given plaques from the Association as a remembrance. Plaques were presented by Pat Uzunoff, president.

Pauline Auferdeide, Martha Katzman, and Irene Karlechik, retired secretaries, were also present. Gifts were exchanged by matching corresponding pieces of greeting cards. An added "bonus" was seeing an album of Georganne Georgoff's baby girl.

Attendance was excellent and a good time was had by all.

Organist Richard J. Bakos accompanied Miss Lisa Treat, Mrs. Kathleen Langreder and Lonny Dawson as they sang several nuptial selections.

William Rader was a lector and servers were David Rader and Richard A. Bakos.

For her wedding the former Miss Stonum chose a long white Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, bishop sleeves and full skirt.

She wore a lace Juliet cap to hold in place her melody length veil and she held a bouquet of white silk roses, pink rosebuds and German statice tied with lace streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Paula Dickinson selected a halter style pink formal dress complemented with a matching cape and she held a single pink silk rose.

The bridesmaids, Miss Anna Stonum, a sister of the bride, Miss Patricia Newman, the groom's sister, and Mrs. Sandra Newman, a sister-in-law of the groom, were gowned in primrose color halter designed dresses worn with matching capes. Each held a single silk rose.

Both flower girls, Jennifer Knight, a cousin of the bride, and Dawn Hornberger, the bride's niece, wore long sleeve burgundy and pink frocks and they carried baskets of pink and primrose silk flowers intermingled with German statice.

Jason Kaulfod served as the ringbearer.

Steven Wallace attended the groom as best man. Robert Stonum, a brother of the bride, Mark Sedlack and John Newman, the groom's brother, were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Mark Dickinson, William Phillips, a cousin of the bride, Robert Newman, a brother of the groom and Terry Hodapp.

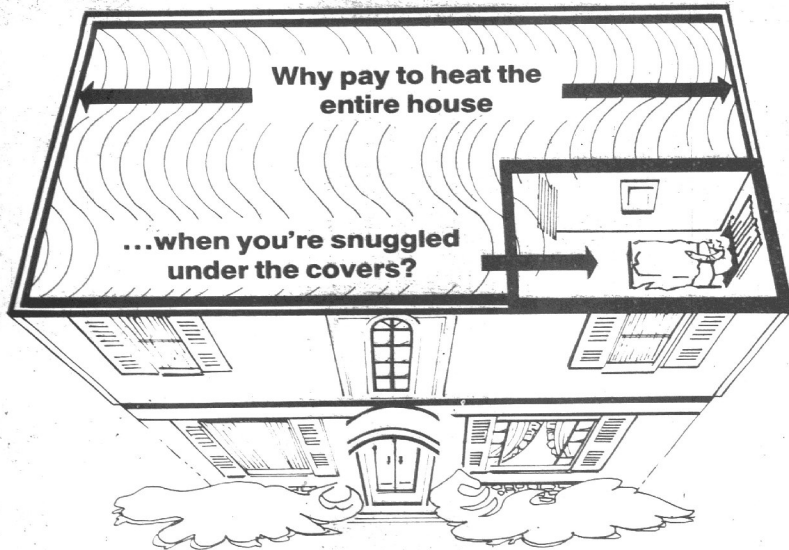

Miss Nancy Sedel, the bride's cousin, presided over the guest book at a reception held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Maryville.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of North High School and she also attended Parkland College in Champaign.

A 1975 Edwardsville High School graduate, the groom is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is also employed by the Cottonwood Bank, Glen Carbon.

The newlywed couple is residing in Glen Carbon.

Dial down at night and save Energy

During the cold months of winter, keeping the entire home at a comfortable temperature is a difficult job for the heating system.

So, setting your thermostat down at night—when you're under the blankets—makes good sense. Just by dialing down a few degrees, you can give your heating system a rest, instead of forcing it to work extra hard during the coldest hours of the night.

You also need proper insulation, storm windows, caulking and weatherstripping around all openings to realize the full benefits of energy conservation. If you've taken all these sensible steps, keeping your home temperature lower at night can save additional energy.

A thermostat with automatic timing controls can do the remembering for you, dialing down to lower temperatures at night or any other time when you don't need the entire house heated. And it can turn up the temperature before you arise in the morning.

For other energy-saving tips, ask our Energy Use Advisor.

Holiday reminder — Better to give than to receive

Guest comment by the Salvation Army—
When the angels sang of "good tidings of great joy" to the watchful shepherds, the message of hope was for all people everywhere.
But every year at Christmastime, there is always a darker picture of those left out of the season of joy—the impoverished, the ill, the old, the unwanted, the forgotten.
The Salvation Army does its best to see that no man, woman or child is forgotten at Christmas. This is a large task. But with contributions from all of us who will be enjoying our holiday with family and friends, the Salvation Army through its annual, The Light of Christmas, will bring a measure of holiday joy to many of the less fortunate.

Especially at this time of year, we should keep in mind that it is "more blessed to give than to receive."

St. John Lutheran Christmas services

Christmas Eve at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, will be celebrated "with a congregational program entitled, 'Christ is the Heart of Christmas,'" by Arden W. Mead. It will involve the children of the Sunday School as well as all worshippers present. Rev. Samuel Boda announces.
The youngest children of the Sunday School will participate in the evening service at 6 through a brief presentation of "Happy Birthday, Jesus," a program by Mary L. Brummer, which includes the use of a large, Christmas mural prepared by the children.
Narrator for the evening will be Charles "Rick" McQueen, with Mrs. Pat Strauser serving as director, along with members of the Sunday School staff. A printed program will be issued to all as they enter the church for Christmas singing and responsive readings. Organist will be Mrs. June Barton, of St. Louis. Rev. Boda, will open and close the service with Christmas scriptures and prayers. The highlight of the evening will be focused on the nativity tableau scene.

On Christmas day, at 10 a.m., the congregation will celebrate the anniversary of the Lord Christ's birth through a festival worship service. Trumpeter will be Luther S. Boda, of Edwardsville, with Mrs. Barton at the organ. The pastor will deliver the Christmas gospel message.
The congregation will close the present calendar year with a New Year's Eve service at 7 p.m. at which Holy Communion will be celebrated and they will also participate in the church bloodmobile drive on Dec. 31.
During the weekend 20 Christmas baskets were prepared and given to needy families in this area. Names of most of these families were secured from the Salvation Army office. Rev. Boda added.
All of the Christmas services are open to the public.

Disneyland theme enchants youngsters here

Every Christmas, the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce entertains youngsters of local area families at a party, in cooperation with the jolly visitor from the North Pole, Santa Claus.
This holiday season was no exception, and about 50 children were taken to the Granite City Township Building on Saturday afternoon for a meal, games, entertainment and fun, climaxed by the arrival of the gift-laden Santa.
True to the Disneyland theme of this year's party, there were appearances by

In addition to the Disneyland characters, the children were entertained by Skinny Stroud, who performed magic and also presented a ventriloquism act, aided by a friendly robot.
Shriners from Anad Temple attended in clown attire.

Mrs. Adams was chairman of the party. Mrs. Sedekum was in charge of food, Mrs. Scannell transportation, Mrs. Partney decorations, Mrs. Mihalich hospitality and Mrs. Tina Thomas, entertainment.
President of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce for the 1980-81 year is Mrs. Mark (Bonnie) Goldenberg. Visitors at the party included Drew Karandjeff, Chamber president, and James Livingston, executive vice-president (manager) of the Chamber.

Cardinals end season same way—lose

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Cardinals ended their topsy-turvy 1980 National Football League schedule here yesterday—the same way they began it. They lost — this time to the Washington Redskins 31-7.

The season that began with a loss to the New York Giants came to a close in the bone-chilling weather before only 35,942 die-hard Big Red fans. But there were some bright spots.

The brightest of the bright spots was the play of rookie quarterback Rusty Lisch, the Notre Dame graduate from Belleville. Lisch came into the game after free agent rookie Mike Lloyd couldn't do the job. Regular starting quarterback Jim Hart could not play because of a rib injury.

Lisch, while not exactly All-Pro in his first appearance as a professional, did provide some hope for the future. He completed six of 17 passes for 68 yards, but did throw three interceptions. Lloyd started the game for the Cardinals, but was 6-for-nine passing. Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of Lisch's debut was his ability to avoid the pass rush of Washington and scramble until he found a receiver.

"Hell, it would have been nice if we could have had Jim Hart out there today," said Jim Hanf, the Big Red's first-year coach who saw his team finish with a 5-11 record — the same as last season when Bud Wilkinson and Larry Wilson coached the club.

"It would have been nice to have (Pat) tilley out there, too," said Hanf. "But those people weren't in the game. Our backup people have to be able to do the job for us, too."

Lisch, who quarterbacked for Belleville West during his prep tenure, was philosophical about his debut. "They (the fans) are going to cheer anybody new who does well," he said. "But the real test will come later."

"It's a long, hard process learning how to be a professional quarterback," he said. "I learn more every day, just by watching someone like Jim Hart. I was happy to be able to get in there and show what I could do. But it wasn't exactly the most pressure-packed situation I could have gone into. It would have been a harder test if the game was on the line."

Lisch led the Cardinals to their only touchdown of the game late in the fourth quarter. It finally came on a four-yard run by Theotis Brown. The extra point by Neil O'Donoghue gave St. Louis its seventh point. But by that time, the score on the Washington side of the ledger was 31.

Believe it or not, the game started out as if it would actually be close. Neither team could get its offense into gear and a defensive struggle appeared forming. Washington got its offense rolling in the second quarter. St. Louis never really did.

There was another bright spot on the frozen Astro-Turf Sunday — Cardinal all-anything running back Ottis Anderson gained 122 yards, giving him 1,332 on the season.

But that was just about the entire offense for the Big Red. Putting Lloyd's performance in with that of Lisch, the Cardinals had minus 12 yards in the air. "Pretty impressive, isn't it?" asked Lisch. The reasons for the negative passing yardage were simple — quarterback sacks. The Cardinals allowed Lloyd and Lisch to be sacked a total of nine times and lost 80 yards.

Washington got started in the second quarter. First, Clarence Harmon ran the ball over from one yard out, Mark Moseley's extra point made it 7-0. Moments later, Art Monk embarrassed the Cardinals by getting seven yards behind the nearest defender and raced in with a 54 yard touchdown pass from quarterback — Joe Theisman. A Theisman to Harmon TD pas from 15 yards out and the extra point made it 21-0 at halftime.

Moseley added a 34-yard field goal in the third quarter and Monk caught a two-yard scoring pass from Theisman in the fourth to round out the scoring.

The biggest gun for Washington was running back Bobby Hammond, who gained 135 yards. Besides Anderson, the Cardinals' Brown had 48 yards. Wayne Morris picked up 12.

Cahokia throttles Granite South, 78-56

By TOM SCHOCKER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — If you feel like winning an individual conference scoring championship, the Granite City South basketball Warriors will be glad to accommodate you.

For the second night in a row, South was victimized by a sizzling individual shooting performance and for the second night, the Warriors dropped a Gateway East Conference prep basketball contest here Saturday night. The Cahokia Comanches were the perpetrators, 78-56, and the man was Don Collins.

In 23 attempts, Collins pumped in 14 shots, while connecting on a perfect 12 for 12 performance from the free throw line. "Collins is the type of player you know will score a lot, but you are surprised to find out how many he did get," said South head coach Don Deterding. "That's the sign of a great ball player."

Deterding was more than surprised to find out after the game that Collins had accumulated 40 points on the evening. "We are helping lead the conference in scoring," said Deterding. "Everyone wants to play us. Those big guys really love to score against us, don't they?"

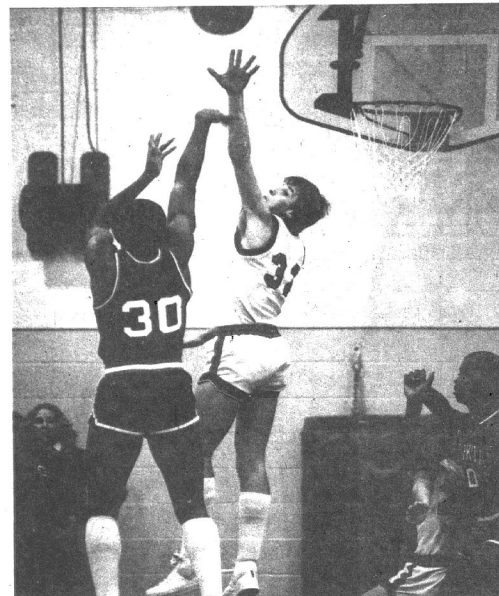

Paul Schaefer of Edwardsville hit for 40 the night before in another conference game (see related story). Deterding knew he (Collins) would get, his points. He was more concerned how his team would get their rallies.

"Offensively, we stunk again," said Deterding. "I thought for sure after last night's game, we would come back strong."

The Warriors tried to play a tough game against the number one team in the St. Louis Globe Democrat poll, but their efforts only lasted for 16 minutes. Twice in the

Madison tops St. Paul

HIGHLAND — The Madison High School basketball Trojans used a strong showing in the second quarter here Saturday night to dump St. Paul of Highland 85-70 in prep action.

Madison (7-1) outscored the Vikings 30-11 in the second quarter to run away with the victory.

Madison was led in scoring by Patrick Joe Hatter who scored 16 points. Charles Caggett added 14 for the Trojans, who will next see action next week in the annual Centralia Holiday Tournament.

Other scorers for Madison Saturday night were Mark Zarr with 13 points, Morris Hughes with 12 and Carvell Caggett with 11.

In other prep basketball action Saturday night, Collinsville came from behind to beat Breese Mater Dei 63-56. Triad continued its winning ways with a 63-52 victory over Greenville East. St. Louis Lincoln beat Kansas City-Paseo 76-62. Waterloo (Gibault) beat East St. Louis Assumption 58-49 and Quincy Senior, one of the top prep teams in the state of Illinois, defeated hapless Alton 76-53.

In Collinsville's victory over Breese Mater Dei, The Kahoks had to come back from a 13-7 first quarter deficit to edge the Knights. Kent Parker scored 17 points for Collinsville, which Friday night defeated Granite City North 73-43. Parker also had seven steals for the Kahoks.

Collinsville's 6-10 center, Jim McConkey, added 14 points. Jay Leskera scored 11. Mark Hipps passed Mater Dei's scoring attack with 14 points. Beckeneyer scored 11 for the Knights.

Crusaders jump all over Steelers, 69-40

By DOUG IRVIN

For the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY —

Many high school basketball coaches have been quoted as saying, "We're just not putting the ball through the hoop." But if any one coach has the right to say it again, it would be Bill Ohlendorf, head coach of the 0-6 Granite City North Steelers.

The Steeler squad still had a pretty good crowd on hand, but it's kind of funny to see fans go to refreshments stand for popcorn during the game and not during halftime.

The hardluck Steelers shot for a mere 31 percent from the field in Saturday night's 69-40 loss to the Belleville Althoff Crusaders. If 31 percent wasn't enough, North only managed to make 14 baskets in 32 minutes.

"They (North) shoot just as bad in practice," said Ohlendorf. "We did play a rough game with Collinsville the night before, so there might have been a fatigue factor."

The two teams, which both have 6-foot-6 or starting centers, started out fairly even, trading buckets until three apiece. The most exciting moment in the first quarter was when Althoff hit the ball two points for hot dogging.

With three seconds left in the quarter, Crusader Steve Hill (6-5) stole a Steeler pass and went for a slam dunk, instead of a simple lay up. As a result, the ball was still in Hill's hand when the buzzer sounded. The dunk was good, but the points weren't.

North only scored another six points in the second quarter to run away 19 for Belleville, 30-12 at halftime. In the second period, North showed off some of their sloppiness. Two or three passes hit North players square in their hands and North managed (quite easily) to drop them resulting in turnovers.

North doubled their total score plus one in the third quarter, but Althoff again got the applause as Hill stole another Steeler pass and displayed a two-handed slam dunk for the crowd. Four minutes later, North was down by 24 as the Crusaders tallied another 19.

The final quarter was the most productive for the Steelers, but 15 points don't help too much when there was a 24 point lead prior to the quarter.

Belleville rolled on to an easy 69-40 Gateway East Conference win and handed North their sixth loss in as many games.

When asked what the major problem was, Ohlendorf replied, "If I only knew what it is, then maybe we could correct it."

Cougars conso champs

CHICAGO — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball Cougars won the Consolation Championship here Saturday night in the annual Chicago State University Holiday Tournament, downing St. Xavier of Chicago 69-68.

The Cougars were led by 6-5 swingforward Ted Smith who scored 24 points. He hit on 10 of 15 from the floor and made four of four free throw attempts. His four straight free throws were registered in the closing seconds of the game to help shut off a rally by St. Xavier.

The high-point man for St. Xavier was Jim Fazekas, who scored his last basket at the buzzer to make the score closer.

In the second half, SIUE had leads of 12 points twice. The next action for SIUE's Cougars will be in the Granite City Classic in St. Cloud Minn against St. John's University, Dec. 29 at 7:30 p.m. SIUE now had a record of 4-6.

South skaters win

ST. LOUIS — The Granite City South ice hockey team won its first game of the season here Saturday night, pounding Hazelwood East 8-3.

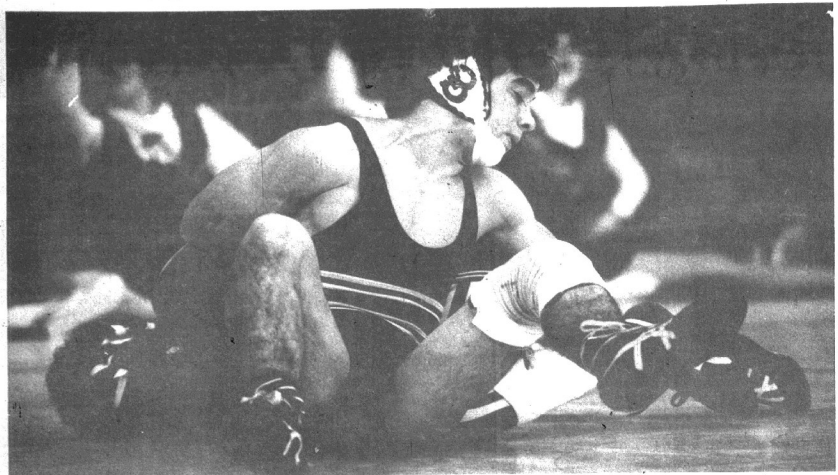

South got goals from Tim Dix (assists to Darren Parney and Terry Pritchard), Pat Dix and Mike

Hassler, Tim Phelps (Joe Koch and Chris Hinterser), Gary Brown (Dix), Keith Romine (Dix and Ron Seelson), Koch (Dix and Phelps), Bill Schriber (Brown and Hassler) and Brown (unassisted). Granite City South's Warriors dominated the game, out-shooting Hazelwood 45-22 over the three periods. Hinterser made 22 saves in the nets for the Warriors.

The 1-4-2 Warriors will next be in action tonight against Hazelwood Central at 7 o'clock.

South downs Normandy

By TOM SCHÖCKER

GRANITE CITY — The pressure had been relieved. Ideas of an undefeated season for the Granite City wrestling squad had been erased Friday night when the Warriors were upset in a dual match by Francis Howell (see related story). A more relaxed Warrior team went back to business as usual here Saturday afternoon beating the Normandy Vikings of St. Louis 41-11.

It was the 47th year that these two schools have met which is the oldest existing rivalry and the Vikings gave South all it could handle, remaining within striking distance after five weight classes, 15-8. The Warrior's Chris Cottrell got them off on the right foot handling Terrance Perry at 98 pounds, 6-1. However, Glenn Wright, at 105, gave up a reverse to Ed Joseph of Normandy with just two seconds left in the second period that tied the score at 7-7. His early 5-0 lead had vanished.

Joseph continued to pile up points and finally pinned Wright with only six seconds remaining in the match. South's Rich Miller at 112 and Greg Garland at 119 made up for the loss. Miller pinned Anthony Maytag midway through the second stanza and Garland tumbled with Marco Harris, winning 14-5. The Vikings were given a bit of light when Josh Williams drew a tie 3-3, with South's Randy Lupardus at 128. "Our wrestlers are not outbusting in the lower weights," said Warrior head coach Bill Schmitt. "They are more of journeymen. They'll win more than they will lose."

The Warriors needed some kind of incentive as Normandy seemed to be closing the gap. What they got was a real knock-down, drag out match between South's Mike Neibur and Normandy's Jeff Gardner at 132 pounds.

Finding himself trailing 6-1, Neibur exploded with a reverse and put Gardner on his back for a near fall. But just as quick, Gardner found a hole for a reverse and it was his turn for a two point near fall.

Down by six, 11-5, early in the second frame Neibur was on the attack and combined a takedown with three near falls to grab the lead for good. Another near fall at the end of the match sealed the come-from-behind win, 20-13. "That's the type of wrestler Mike (Neibur) is," said Schmitt. "He keeps coming at you."

It was a shot in the arm for the Warriors as they started to roll. Tom McElroy went on the take the 138 pound bout from Normandy's Mark Washington, 10-6. At 145, Jon Frangoulis saw his lead slip away just once, but he dominated the third period before the third Henderson decision, 15-2.

"I thought it might be a closer meet," said Schmitt. "I thought Lupardus would win and I didn't expect Dowdy to get beat again. But it's good to win, especially before the holidays."

Normandy's hopes of pinning a second straight defeat on South were lost. Dean Perkins remained undefeated for the Warriors as he was given a forfeit win at 155. Hopelessly behind, Normandy got one more win as Duane Bryant at 167 tagged Ken Dowdy with a 7-4 loss.

But the Warriors went out with style. Jim Frangoulis pinned Martin Burt at 185 early in the second period and Bruce Monahan wrestled a courageous match against Normandy's Dwight Manzy at the heavyweight bout.

Monahan held a 12-2 advantage when a move by Manzy twisted his knee. The match was stopped as the pain was too much. After a few minutes of rest and a convincement of Schmitt, Monahan wanted to go on.

But Manzy, on the very first move, went back to the knee. The match was stopped again. "I was ready to pull him out of the match," said Schmitt. "But, he wanted to wrestle. A tapout of the kind allowed Monahan to finish out the final minute and he brought the crowd to its feet with a three point near fall to win a superior decision, 15-2."

"I thought it might be a closer meet," said Schmitt. "I thought Lupardus would win and I didn't expect Dowdy to get beat again. But it's good to win, especially before the holidays."

for the Press-Record
MADISON — The Madison High basketball team came from four points behind at halftime to a 22-point advantage when time ran out for an 88-66 victory over the Effingham St. Anthony Bulldogs here Friday night. St. Anthony took the offensive thrust in the opening half of the game and gave Madison everything it wanted. Madison, though, should not be underestimated. Both teams gave it the "off run and gun" routine, but St. Anthony tired out just a little too quickly. The Bulldogs were in the first quarter, but the Bulldogs capitalized on a turnover and a missed shot to go on top 19-16 after eight minutes of play.

The lead changed hands four times in the second quarter with Madison coming out on the short end. Good moves and fakes were well executed by both teams, but St. Anthony still held onto their shallow, temporary lead, 41-37 at half time.

Something happened to the Trojans in the locker room during the intermission. Something that every basketball coach would like to see. A quiet, losing team went in and a rowdy, spirited team came out into the game.

"I like to think that it was part me, as a coach, and part them, as winners," said Larry Graham, Madison's head coach.

The Trojans tied the contest in the first 45 seconds of the second half with two quick baskets by 6-foot-3 senior Patrick Joe Hatter. The next basket didn't come for a full minute and Madison tied that 20 seconds later, courtesy of 6-foot-4 Morris Hughes.

Hughes then put one in from underneath to put the Trojans on top for the rest of the game. Madison went on to gain a 12-point lead at the quarter, 39-27.

MT. VERNON — Boosting their season record to 9-0 here Saturday was the Granite City North Steelers wrestling team with an impressive 46-8 victory over the Mt. Vernon squad. North recorded five pins, four in the first four weight classes and one at 145.

Freshman Greg Nemeth opened the competition with a 57-second fall over Jamie Francis at 98 pounds. Friday, they fought to a 105 stick Robert Edwards at the 128 mark. At 112, North's Steve Smith flattened Brian Myers at three minutes even. Robinson and Smith are the only Steelers with unblemished records.

Senior Jerry Miller scored his fall in the second period against Kevin Smith at the 132 mark. Rod Unger, North's 126-pounder, shut out John Rogenhardt, 11-0. Steeler Glen Thompson pinned Mt. Vernon's Robbie O'Bryen, 4-0, at 132.

Steve Gibson of North did a 10-0 on a 145 lb. Rogenhardt, 6-2, at 138. North's final fall was courtesy of sophomore Steve Kessle at 145. He stuck Brady Moore at 4:58.

Scott Corey beat Mt. Vernon's John Miller, 8-0, at 176. Bob Patton edged Tim Garrod, 8-7. At this point of the match, North led 46-2.

Weighted-turned-185-pound Steeler Tim Wyrwotek lost a 10-4 decision to Earnie "Dave" Owens. Owens wrestled at heavy for North and lost also 10-4 to Todd Thomas.

Nothing on his schedule until the Holiday Tournament on Monday and Tuesday (Dec. 29 and 30).

Steve Whitaker has been pleased with the performance of his squad. "They did a real good job Saturday," said Whitaker. "They wrestled fast Thursday (Bethalto) and came back strong for Mt. Vernon. That's the sign of good kids."

South grapplers are upset

WELDON SPRINGS, MO. — Who ever heard of Francis Howell? Certainly not the Granite City South wrestling team. But Howell knew the Warriors and after it had handed South its first defeat of the season, 33-21 here Friday, the Warriors will surely remember the Missouri team.

It was the first time in the history of South wrestling that a Missouri school had beaten the Warriors. There were a number of things that South's head coach Bill Schmitt didn't know about when it was in store for. At 98, Cottrell had matters well in hand, winning 8-4 late in the second period. But, the Howell man, Chuck Henson, threw a head lock on Cottrell and pinned him with four seconds left in the frame. "It was there (Howell) specialty," said Schmitt. It brought a remembrance of Belleville East a number of years ago. They threw head locks all over the place.

The Warrior's Mike Neibur also fell victim to the deadly move. At 132, Neibur, like Cottrell, was winning, 4-1. Bill Bollmeier of Howell instituted a head lock and Neibur was pinned at 3:23. The defeat can at the most inappropriate time of the meet, too.

After Cottrell, Glenn Wright dropped his match, 15-9, to Howell's Dave Edwards at 105, but South rebounded strong. Rich Miller at 112 and Greg Garland at 119 both completed shutouts. Miller winning 12-0 over Lonnie Crawford and Garland taking an 11-0 win over Brad Waters.

"They (Howell) were really ready for us," said Schmitt. "They (South) took them too lightly."

Behind to take the victory. The Red Devils led 20-18 at the end of the first quarter but St. Paul's Vikings stormed back in the second quarter to outscore the Red Devils 21-14 and take a 37-34 halftime lead into the locker room.

Venice tied the score at the end of the third quarter and then outscored the Vikings 27-15 in the fourth quarter to win going away.

Warriors fall to red-hot Edwardsville

By TOM SCHÖCKER

GRANITE CITY — Just when the Granite City South basketball team found out it could shoot the ball, it went up against a squad that did just a little better. The Warriors burned the nets against Edwardsville here Friday, but they forgot to play defense and Edwardsville's Tigers took the Gateway East Conference shoot-out 95-77.

"I knew this would happen," said South head coach Don Deterding. "We played good defense against Wood River last week, but couldn't hit the hole. Tonight we scored well, but our defense was terrible."

Defending the Tiger's Paul Schaefer was a hopeless battle. The 6-foot-7 center missed only four shots in 20 attempts and hit eight of ten from the free throw line for a 40 point output. "I knew he would hurt us," said Deterding. "I just wish he hadn't hurt us so bad."

It wasn't only Schaefer that bullied the Warriors. Edwardsville's Bruce Dickman took care of matters from outside. Drilling in 25 tallies, the Warriors weren't able to stop one man without the other nailing them in the back. "They (South) couldn't key on Schaefer with Dickman scoring like he did," said Tiger head coach Gene Vellino. "It gave us more offense to work with. We didn't have to go to the line to Schaefer for points."

There was only one way South could combat the problem. If it couldn't stop them, join them, so to speak. The Warriors began to score and with regularity.

learned that we could put the ball in the hole," said Deterding. "This will be a plus later on in the season."

South shot the ball 27 times in the first half and connected on 15, for a remarkable 56 percent. However, as the Warriors fate would have it, Edwardsville hit at a sizzling 66 percent which gave the Tigers 31 second quarter tallies and a 14 point halftime lead.

As Edwardsville widened its advantage, South's hot hand began to cool, but the fire inside was still burning strong. Down by 18, 64-46, the Warriors put on one of their patent rush for the lead. Connecting for 10 straight points, South had a chance. "We are not playing bad on defense," said Vellino. "You have to give credit to South, they can really shoot the ball."

The Warriors were given a total team effort. George Sykes headed South with 17 points, while Ken McManus, Eric Wallenberger and Jim Choat all hit for 16. "Choat played a super game for the Warriors as a varsity starter and McManus jumped better than I have ever seen before," said Deterding. "McManus led South with 19 rebounds."

A three-point play to open the fourth period for the Tigers just about closed the book for South. Even a late barrage of points to cut the Edwardsville to nine wouldn't turn the trick; to give the Warriors a win. South's fine 47 percent shooting performance was over-shadowed by a 59 percent from Edwardsville. "There were a lot of plus's for us tonight," said Deterding, "but we still don't have that big plus. A win."

Red Devils win first of season

VENICE — It was a long time coming, but the Venice basketball Red Devils won their first game of the season here Friday night, defeating St. Paul of Highland 82-71. William Watts led the way for the Red Devils, scoring 21 points. But he had plenty of support. Harold Milton had 18 points for Venice, Archie Gardner had 13 and James Cox added 16 for Venice to the winning cause. Venice had to come from behind to take the victory. The Red Devils led 20-18 at the end of the first quarter but St. Paul's Vikings stormed back in the second quarter to outscore the Red Devils 21-14 and take a 37-34 halftime lead into the locker room.

ITHACA, N.Y. — The Cornell men's varsity soccer team closed out its finest campaign since 1977 by posting a 9-4-3 record overall and a 3-2-2 record in Ivy League play, good for third place behind co-champions Columbia and Pennsylvania. In the final regular season game, Cornell was ranked second in New York state and 15th nationally.

Granite City North

graduate Eric Thornburg was instrumental in Cornell's success showing his season. Thornburg, who gained All-State honors his senior year at North and played in the annual De Pepper North-South game in Chicago's Soldier Field, was a season-long starter. The Big Red ended its season with a heartbreaking overtime loss to Hartwick in the opening round of the NCAA playoffs, 3-2.

School Wrestling

North wins

GRANITE CITY — Walt Whitaker was given probably a good score here Thursday. Knowing the quality of the Granite North wrestling team, he warned his wrestlers about its upcoming opponent in Bethalto. But no heed was paid and although the Steelers won 37-19, Whitaker knew his squad took the Eagles too lightly which cost some of the Steeler grapplers.

"We warned them about Bethalto," said Whitaker. "You can't overlook anybody. That's what was our problem."

An unexpected upset came at the 119 pound bout. Gerald Miller lost his first match of the year as Bethalto's Jim Kohlborn handled Miller quite easily, 13-4. "They were not that bad," said Whitaker. "We wrestled kind of flat and without intensity. We really took them for granted."

Glenn Thompson also fell victim as he was pinned by the Eagle's Mark Kristoff at 138 midway through the final period of their match. At 145, Monte Kessler had victory in hand, but two escapes by Tom Williams late in the match spelled defeat, 12-11.

The only other loss for North was in the heavyweight bout with an new grappler. Dave Owens, originally at 185, was switched with Tim Wyrostek. Owens still couldn't wrestle out of his slump and lost to Ralph Davis on a pin at 3:55. Wyrostek, on the other hand, handled the transition well,

Cahokia

early moments of the third quarter, South made a run at Cahokia and cut its lead to three. But, like Deterding had stated, the Warrior's offensive output ceased to function.

It was then, Collins and company took control. With the Cornatich guards blasting the middle of the Warrior defense, Cahokia reeled off 12 unanswered points. South never drew close again. The Comanches went on to score South 21-9 in the third stanza.

"I was not very happy with them tonight," said Comanche head coach Ken McBride. "We stunk to be truthful with you. But if there is one highlight in the game, it would have to be the play of Vernon Glenn and Randy Goodwin. When I put them in the game, they picked up the tempo and got the ball down the court."

Getting the ball down the court was no problem for South, it was putting it in the basket that raised some trouble. "I think fatigue was a big factor in the second half. We ran real hard with Edwardsville last night and we pressed a lot tonight."

Whatever the reason, the Warriors couldn't buy a basket when they needed it. Consequently, it resulted in a 32 percent shooting performance. Deterding was even forced to go to the bench to find a scorer. "I was hoping to get somebody to put the ball in," said Deterding. "I had them shooting until I thought they should come out."

George Sykes put the ball up the most for the Warriors as he led the team in scoring with 21 points. Eric Waltenberger dropped in 12 before he fouled out. In fact, South had two other players sit the bench because of fouls.

"I don't think it was frustration fouls," said Deterding. "It was hustling fouls. They knew they weren't scoring on one end, so they had to come down and play super tough on defense."

Not being able to hit the hole was only half the reason. The Warriors were getting just one shot on most occasions. "I knew before the game started that we would have trouble rebounding," said Deterding. He was right. Cahokia out-muscled South very badly, 55-25. Collins, in addition to his hot hand, snatched a game high 15 caroms.

Steamers win again

ST. LOUIS — The St. Louis Steamers finally came out on top here last night, winning a 7-4 heart-stopper from the Phoenix Inferno at the Checkerboard in Major Indoor Soccer League action. St. Louis scored three goals in the last four and a half minutes of the game to break a 4-4 tie and run its Central Division leading record to 10-2 on the season.

The Steamers got goals from Tony Glavin, Emilio John and Vilmar Orban to break open the game, that had seen St. Louis lead 4-1 at one point.

Phoenix goalie Nick Orcharuk, a graduate of Western Illinois University, almost single-handedly kept his team in the game. Time after time he came up with critical circus-like saves to keep the Inferno alive.

The game started out comparatively slow. There was no scoring in the first quarter. But the two teams made up for it in the second period. Phoenix took a 1-0 lead at the 2:57 mark of the period on a goal by Vic Davidson. The Steamers tied it at the 7:34 mark on a goal by captain Steve Pecher. The assist went to SIU-Edwardsville graduate Don Ebert. The score was 1-1 at halftime.

The third period was all Steamers. First came Tony Bellinger. He scored an unassisted goal at the 11:18 mark, making it 2-1. Then Glavin, just 20 seconds later, made it 3-1 after getting an assist from Winston Hackett. Ebert scored his eleventh goal of the season on an assist from Carl Rose at the 12:48 mark, making it 4-1. It was a romp.

But back came Phoenix. The Inferno tied the score on two goals by Davidson one by George Nanchoff. Then came that last-gasp scoring spree by the Steamers.

The next action for the Steamers will be Friday, Dec. 26 in Chicago against the Horizon, one of only two teams to hand St. Louis a loss this season.

Report in error

Ivan Nels Orsland, 53, St. Louis, who was transported to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville Thursday on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a child, was not staying at the home of the 5-year-old girl he allegedly molested one week ago, the child's mother said Thursday.

An article in Thursday's paper referred to official reports in saying Orsland was visiting in the Kirkpatrick Homes apartment while the child's father was in the hospital. According to the mother, Orsland had just arrived shortly before the alleged molestation, was not working and was not invited to be a guest in the apartment.

Tailgates: America's unique idea for informal gatherings

Tailgating means easy-to-pack-and-serve recipes. Score a touchdown with a "Ronrico Hot Rum Toddy" teamed up with "Football Ragout."

In a small amount of oil or butter, brown mushrooms, onions and carrots.

Remove vegetables from pot and set aside with green beans. Brown meat, sliced onion and garlic.

Add remaining ingredients; cover and simmer 1½ hours or until meat is tender.

Add mushrooms, onions, carrots and green beans. Cook, covered, for 20 minutes or until the vegetables are tender.

Thicken the ragout with a smooth paste made of 3 tablespoons flour and ½ cup cold water.

Carry to game in a large heat-retaining container or a pot with tight-fitting lid (to be reheated on a camp stove).

Makes 3 quarts—6 to 8 servings.

RUM TODDY PUNCH

- 1 lemon, sliced
- 6 whole cloves
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 stick cinnamon, broken in half
- 4 cups boiling water
- 2 cups Ronrico Gold Rum

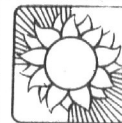

Add the lemon, cloves, sugar and cinnamon stick to the water; simmer the mixture for 5 minutes.

Add Ronrico Rum; pour into heat-retaining beverage carrier.

To serve, pour into mugs and garnish with cinnamon sticks and clove-studded lemon slices. Makes 1½ quarts.

FOOTBALL RAGOUT

- 1 lb. small mushrooms
- ½ lbs. small white onions, peeled
- ½ lbs. carrots, scraped and cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 lb. green beans cut into 1-inch pieces
- 2 lbs. beef chuck cut into 1½-inch cubes
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, peeled
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
- ½ teaspoon basil
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 cans condensed beef broth
- 1 cup water
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- ¼ cup Leroux Creme de Cacao, Brown

Tailgates: America's unique idea for informal gatherings

Tailgating means easy-to-pack-and-serve recipes. Score a touchdown with a "Ronrico Hot Rum Toddy" teamed up with "Football Ragout."

In a small amount of oil or butter, brown mushrooms, onions and carrots.

Remove vegetables from pot and set aside with green beans. Brown meat, sliced onion and garlic.

Add remaining ingredients; cover and simmer 1½ hours or until meat is tender.

Add mushrooms, onions, carrots and green beans. Cook, covered, for 20 minutes or until the vegetables are tender.

Thicken the ragout with a smooth paste made of 3 tablespoons flour and ½ cup cold water.

Carry to game in a large heat-retaining container or a pot with tight-fitting lid (to be reheated on a camp stove).

Makes 3 quarts—6 to 8 servings.

RUM TODDY PUNCH

1 lemon, sliced
6 whole cloves
2 tablespoons sugar
1 stick cinnamon, broken in half
4 cups boiling water
2 cups Ronrico Hot Rum

Add the lemon, cloves, sugar and cinnamon stick to the water; simmer the mixture for 5 minutes.

Add Ronrico Rum; pour into heat-retaining beverage carrier. To serve, pour into mugs and garnish with cinnamon sticks and clove-studded lemon slices. Makes 1½ quarts.

FOOTBALL RAGOUT

1½ lbs. small white onions, peeled
1½ lbs. carrots, scraped and cut into 1-inch pieces
1 lb. green beans cut into 1-inch pieces
